BEGIN WORK ON BRANCH P. O. STATION

To Start Work Immediately
on New Madison
Branch
NEAR N. W. STATION
New Building To Go Up On
Rogers-Walker
Property

After months of untiring effort
on the part of Postmaster W. A.
Devine, Madison is to have a new branch post office to take care of a large part of the city's mail.

The new station, which is to be designated as A, will be situated on the east side of Railroad street between Blount and Bluff streets, near the Northwestern station. It will have a ground space of 3,000 square feet and is to be held on a 10-year lease, beginning Jan. 1, 1920, or date of occupancy, from the Rogers-Walker Co., which owns the ground
and has contracted to erect the building. The company also supplies light, heat, water and furnishings. Building is to begin immediately.

Nine city carriers, three rural carriers and 15 clerks will be transferred from the main office to station A, Mr. Devine stated. In addition, he has made application for 4 more carriers, so that those sections of the city which now have only one delivery, will receive two,
giving every person two deliveries
a day. Seven additional clerks and two laborers will also be appointed.

Delivery from the new station
will be made from Blount street east. The new station makes the 11th in the city, exclusive of the main post office. Whether the building will be more than one story
is not yet known, but the postoffice department has contracted for the use of the ground floor only. The building will probably be of white brick.

"As 50 per cent of the mail is received from the Northwestern station," Mr. Devine explained, "it can readily be seen that a huge saving in time and money will be effected
by having a station right at the Northwestern tracks. All the parcel post will be handled through the new office, and sent direct, from there to the addressees. Outgoing mail will be dispatched from that office also."

ENGINE JOLTS HARDING TRAIN

Special Car Jolted in Accident; No One is Injured

(By the Associated Press)

ON BOARD HARDING SPECIAL TRAIN—Harding made his first speech of the day on his journey to Baltimore at Altoona, Pa., where he told railroad employees
that the Cummins-Esch railway law
is "the best piece of legislation for the railway workers ever placed on the statute books."

The train passed through Pittsburgh during the night a switch-
engine side-swiped one of the cars
occupied by newspaper men and jolted the senator's private car
"ideal" which was directly behind.
No one was injured and the only damage done was the shattering of the vestibule windows of the newspaper car.

The special was running slowly
when the impact occurred and few
of those on board were awakened.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 80 at noon
Sunday, and the lowest was 56 at 5 a. m. Rain fell .36 and the sun sets at 6:47.

Showers and thunder storms occurred in the lake regions and upper Mississippi valley during the passage of an area of low barometer from the west. The barometer continues low in western Canada
with rain and rising temperature on the Pacific coast. High barometer with cooler fair weather prevails
in the western states.

DRYS REJECT BOTH PARTIES

Director of Woman's Campaign Announces Cold Shoulder

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—The prohibition party
sees no difference in the records and attitude of Sen. Harding and
Gov. Cox on the prohibition question, Mrs. Margaret Wintringer, director of the woman's campaign of the prohibition party, announced today.

"The prohibition party has made no discrimination in the questioning of candidates," Mrs. Wintringer's statement says.

"We have put the identical questions and made identical proposals
to both candidates.

"While Mr. Harding is overworking his senatorial temperance
record, which is two dry votes,
against 30 for wet measures, Mr.
Cox is using the Sunday closing of saloons in one lone city as a smoke screen to disguise the fact that at the same time saloons were running wide open on Sunday in other cities of the state.

"Mr. Harding voted for the prohibition amendment but he made a speech at the time saying, 'he did not believe in prohibition and it was he who introduced the amendment
which provided that the amendment
must be ratified within six years,
a measure which the wets then hoped would defeat ratification. Mr.
Harding's vote for the Volstead act
was cast after he had been assured that enough votes were recorded to carry the measure.

"Nothing short of a clear-cut declaration pledging specifically the use of his legislative power as president to prevent a change in the Volstead act would, in our opinion,
entitle either candidate to dry support."

J. A. Schultz, City Pioneer, Is Dead

John August Schultz, for over 50 years a resident of Madison and vicinity died Sunday night at 11:45
o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Gerfen, 1124 Williamson st. Mr. Schultz who is a retired farmer was born in Germany,
April 28, 1836. He came to America and settled in Dane county in 1867, marrying Miss Matilda Henrietta Brown a year later. Besides his wife the deceased is survived by five children, Mrs. William Gust, Mrs. Gerfen, Mrs. Sever Thung-stead and Henry Schultz of this city and Mrs. Robert Knoff of Milwaukee.

Ernest Cunningham, War Veteran, Dies

Ernest Cunningham, world war
veteran and son of John Cunningham of this city, died Saturday
evening at the Madison Tubercular Sanitarium aged 30 years. Besides his father he is survived by one brother, Homer Cunningham of Detroit, Mich., and one sister Miss Irene Cunningham of Drumright, Okla. He served with the U. S.
army in France where he was gassed, resulting later in tuberculosis.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock
from the First Baptist church, Rev.
D. D. McLaurin officiating. The Knights of Pythias will have charge of the services at the grave.

RAIL LAW IS OPPOSED BY REINSCH

Democratic Nominee Says
He Can't Approve Cummins Law

IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

Declares League Must Be Responsible to Congress

MILWAUKEE—In the first address in his campaign for United States Senator, Paul S. Reinsch, Madison, democratic nominee, came out in opposition to the Esch-Cummins railroad law and in favor of modifications to the league of nations. He spoke here before the democratic state central committee
Saturday evening.

"It is impossible for me to approve of such legislation as the Esch-Cummins railway law," said
Mr. Reinsch. "The vast sums of money which by the operation of this law will be transferred from the public—shippers and travellers
—to the transportation companies should be specifically accounted for
and audited so as to assure the actual application of these great resources to proper purposes of improved service, beyond per-adventure of the doubts which railway
financing in the past makes only too natural.

KAPPAS LOSE RUSH PRIVILEGE

Pan-Hellenic Society
Charges Violation
of Rules

For not getting rushers home promptly at 10 or 11 o'clock, the time stipulated by Pan-Hellenic,
the inter-society organization, and
by engaging the services of a musician and giving one formal function in the same day, Kappa Kappa Gamma forfeited its social and rush privileges for the current semester. The decision was made by Pan-Hellenic organization and
on reconsideration the vote again
was against the oldest sorority with a majority of 15 to 1.

The constitution of Pan-Hellenic
states that the maximum penalty
shall be exacted for the violation of any rule. The sorority may not bid, rush, or pledge any girls before the second semester. The girls who wish to join Kappa Kappa Gamma are free to wait until February, though other sororities may rush and bid them.

James J. Corbett Is Seriously Ill

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Disgraced
by the advice of physicians, James J. Corbett, former heavy-weight champion pugilist, this morning left
the Good Shepherd hospital here
and departed by train for Pittsburgh. He was in a weakened state when he arrived Thursday with a theatrical production. Sunday his condition grew serious and he was rushed to the hospital where it was found he was suffering from kidney trouble. A long rest was recommended by physicians, but Corbett refused to remain.

Scout Jamboree To Be Chicken Dinner

Members of the local Boy Scout council will hold their annual jamboree, Thursday, Oct. 7, on the shores of Lake Mendota. The party will take the form of a chicken
roast and will be followed by election of officers for the following year. Details are being planned by R. A. Overholser, scout executive, who will make further announcements later.

FIRST GAME IN WORLD SERIES IS SET FOR OCT. 5

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Brooklyn won
the championship of the National league today, although idle, as a result of New York
being defeated by Boston here
in the second game of their double-header.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — The American League won the toss at the meeting of the National Commission today and the first world's series games will be played Oct. 5th in the American League city winning the pennant.

The first three games will be played in the same city, October 5, 6 and 7. On Oct. 8 the teams will travel and on Oct. 9
will open a four game series in the National League city. On Oct. 13 they will travel again
to play in the American league city on Oct. 14. If a ninth game is necessary, it will be played in the National League
city Oct. 15.

The National Commission,
also decided that if the American league race results in a tie
between Chicago and Cleveland
a three game series will be necessary to decide the winner.
In that event the first game will be played in Cleveland, the second on Chicago and the third on neutral ground.

1,000 ATTEND LEGION MEET

Parade Features First Day
of Annual Convention

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio—More than 1,000 delegates were in their seats in the Hippodrome theater this morning when Franklin D'Olier, National Commander, called to order
the second annual convention of the American Legion.

Commander D'Olier presented Rev.
Francis J. Kelley of Troy, N. Y.,
"The fighting chaplain" who delivered the invocation. Mayor William S. Fitzgerald welcomed the visitors and delegates.

The convention was adjourned at noon to witness the parade this afternoon of approximately 20,000 former service men and women, the feature of the three days' convention.

Veterans of the allied nations, it is said, will start a movement at the convention to form their own
"League of Nations." The proposition will include the soldier's organizations of the United States; the great war veterans' association of Great Britain; the Union of Fighters of France and several other French Associations. The convention will close Wednesday
with the election of officers.

Approximately 50,000 visitors were here to witness the parade. A half holiday was proclaimed by Mayor Fitzgerald.

PASTOR'S SON ARRESTED IN AUTO CASE

Charge William Dawson,
Jr., With Taking Auto
Without Consent

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Claim Youth Took Car of John Olin; Bail is $1,000

A plea of not guilty was entered in superior court this morning by William Dawson, Jr., son of Rev.
and Mrs. W. Dawson, 1001 University ave., who was charged with having taken an automobile belonging to John M. Olin, without permission of the owner.

Dawson was arrested by the police Saturday night after a chase led by Mrs. Dabert Dender, 419 Hancock st. Dawson gave his age
as 17 to the police, according to Capt. Davenport, to whom he admitted stealing the car. Both Rev.
and Mrs. Dawson appeared in court with their son this morning. Bail was set at $1,000 and the case continued to Tuesday.

Mrs. Bender reported a car similar to the one stolen Saturday morning in the street near her home Saturday night and informed the police. She thought the car deserted. A short time after she had informed the police, Dawson appeared at the house; she stated, and inquired about the car. Mrs. Bender told him that the machine had been taken by the police, whereupon, according to her story, he ran. Then followed the chase.

Dawson's story to the police was that he entered the Olin garage
through a rear door which was unlocked, about 2 o'clock Saturday morning and took the car out at the front doors which he opened from the inside. He drove to Janesville,
he told the police, and other points,
and came back to the city Saturday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Dawson returned to this city only recently, after having resided in other places for some years. They formerly lived in Madison.

RHODES PRIZE TO U. W. MAN

Clyde Emery, Kansas City,
Winner of Scholar-Ship

Clyde B. Emery is winner of the Rhodes scholarship, according to an announcement from President Birge
of the university this morning. Emery is a senior in the letters and science course at the university, and is a member of Chi Phi fraternity.
He is prominent in university activities and is this year a member of the Cardinal staff. His home is at Kansas City, Mo.

Emery will sail for England next fall to take up studies at Oxford, all expenses being paid. No other candidate will be chosen from Wisconsin for two years.

The selection of Emery was made from about 400 candidates, by committees chosen from 500 former Rhodes scholars. The selections were announced in Boston yesterday by Prof. Frank Aydelotte of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, American secretary of the Rhodes trustees.

The quota last year for the United States was 64 instead of the normal 22 to make up for the postponement of elections during the war. The quota for next year will be 22, and two-thirds of the states will elect one man each while those which made two appointments this year will have no election. Scholars elected for this year go to Oxford in January, 1921, and those elected for 1922 go in October of that year to bring appointments
back to the regular schedule.

Rhodes scholars are chosen according to the three requirements
of the will of Cecil John Rhodes,
which comprise character, intellectual ability and physical vigor. No written examinations are held, the men being chosen on the basis of school or college records, supplemented by personal interview.

NEW RIOTS IN BELFAST

Three Killed Following Murder
of Policeman; Use
Armored Cars

(By the Associated Press)

CORK—A violent explosion
shook this city about 2 o'clock this morning. It was followed by the rattle of rifle fire in the business district.

When townspeople ventured forth
later after the curfew had expired,
they found the main thoroughfare,
Patrick st., littered with glass, and
the front of a large department store, which is said to employ a large number of young Sinn Feiners, completely wrecked as if by bombs.

At military headquarters it was said there were no military patrols near the wrecked store when the explosion occurred but that troops were hastened to the scene. They were fired on by snipers from the roofs, according to the reports,
and the soldiers returned the fire
with several volleys. A military guard has been stationed at the store.

It is understood the theory of both the military and police is that a bomb was placed in a show window from the inside, but this is controverted by the owner. A half dozen employees sleeping upstairs were uninjured. Intense excitement prevailed throughout the city.

Rioting in Belfast.

LONDON—Cork was shaken by
a great explosion early today, one of the large drygoods stores being demolished. The explosion was followed by the sound of rifle and machine gun firing, says a Cork-dispatch to the Evening News. Several persons were sleeping on the premises at the time of the explosion and the dispatch declares military authorities allege bombs were placed inside one of the large windows.

Three men have been slain at Belfast following the murder of one policeman and the wounding of two others. Dispatches indicate the assassination of these three men was deliberately planned.

Serious rioting has occurred in Belfast and it is said a number of wounded have been received in hospitals. Large forces of troops, with armored cars are on duty in that city.

Residents Are Terrorized

BELFAST — Shooting by snipers
and others in the center of Belfast
last night caused a panic among the crowds on Royal Avenue, the city's main artery, after church hours.
The disturbance followed shootings
Saturday night and Sunday, in which one policeman was killed and two others wounded, followed by the assassination of three civilians in reprisal by masked men.

Snipers in the Sinn Fein quarter fired into North Street which crosses Royal Avenue. A tram car came into the line of fire. The Sunday night passengers, terrified crouched
on the floor until the car turned into Royal Avenue. Tram car traffic
later was diverted to another route.
The rush from the side streets caused the crowd in Royal Avenue to swell to large proportions and a stampede was created when volleys suddenly rang out apparently from the Sinn Fein side streets at the top of North Street. As the crowd raced in disorder along Royal Avenue,
shots were discharged in Rosemary street, on the southern side of the avenue, creating a panic about Castle Street junction, the most crowded spot in the city.

Women rushed about in a frenzy,
and there was a rush to shelter
in the tram cars. Military and police

The only course in public health work, specially prepared for public health nursing, to be offered by any state university will be offered in Wisconsin this term, according to Miss Florence Patterson, in charge of the nurses' training courses at the university. The course is offered to meet the demand for public health workers which is so great that throughout the country only one out of eight requests can be filled.

IMMIGRATION ISSUE MAY BRING CRISIS

United States Parley With Japs in "Serious Stage"
JAPS ASSAIL SECRECY
Former Premier Attacks Lid
On Japanese
Diplomacy

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO—Negotiations between Japan and the United States, with reference to the immigration question, are entering "the serious stage," Baron Sakatani, former minister of finance, has informed the Koseikai party in the house of peers, reporting an interview with Viscount Uchida, foreign minister. Asserting that this was the only statement concerning the negotiations possible to disclose, Baron Sakatani quoted the foreign minister as saying that both governments were making the utmost effort to arrive at an amicable settlement.

Secrecy Is Assailed
An attack against secrecy in connection with Japan's diplomacy in the California problem is made in a statement by Masquid Okuma, former premier. He demands that the government respond to national opinion, which should be awakened to the gravity of the issues.

The presence of 100,000 industrious Japanese is no menace to America, he says; the real menace is from the anarchists and bolsheviks, who are flocking to the United States from Europe.

The newspaper Yomi Uri, in an article on Sunday on the Japanese-American situation, says it understands that the government will propose appointment of a high commission to deal with problems between the two countries, if the anti-Japanese referendum measures in California are passed.

It quotes Viscount Shibusawa, president of the American-Japan society, as admitting that the commission project is being discussed, but saying that he would recommend to Premier Hara that the result of the referendum be awaited. If it were unfavorable, he added, he thought representative Japanese should go to America and discuss the problem with men like former President Taft and Frank W. Vanderlip.

No Talk About Real Issue Says Darrow

Clarence Darrow, well-known Chicago attorney, who was in the city Saturday awaiting the call of a case in which he appeared for the defendant, declared that the G. O. P. is a rich man's party, and that he expects to vote for Cox, although he believes the democrats are by no means amis. The league of nations is more or less harmless, he declared, and won't work anyway. The real issue in the campaign is the fight of the people against organized wealth.

Warn Against Fake Fruit Beverages

WASHINGTON—Warning against "fake" fruit beverages which have flooded the soft drink market since the advent of prohibition, was issued today by the public health service. Many of the orange beverages, it was said, consist only of sweetened carbonated water, flavored with a little oil from the peel of oranges and artificially colored. The department of agriculture has ruled that provisions of the pure food act will be held violated in case such drinks are sold under trade names which lead the purchaser to believe they contain the edible portion or juice of the fruit named.

Lillian Russell, Famous Actress, Greets Harding at His Home

Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore and Senator Harding, photographed on the Harding porch.

One of the recent visitors at the home of Senator Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for president, was Lillian Russell Moore, famous American actress and beauty. The picture was snapped while Miss Russell was standing with Senator Harding on the famous "front" porch.

BARBER HEADS GAME OFFICERS

Member of Conservation Commission Honored
at Ottawa, Can.

OTTAWA, Can.—W. E. Barber, chairman of the Wisconsin conservation commission, was elected president of the International Convention of Fish and Game Commissioners which closed its annual session here.

Mr. Barber said, in a speech accepting the presidency: "The last four or five years have wrought a great change in public sentiment concerning conservation. I was much struck by the evidence of this shown in a series of public hearings, our commission recently held, covering every county in our state. The enormous slaughter of deer during last year's season impelled our commission to sound public sentiment, as our laws authorized us to do, concerning the putting in force of a one buck law, and declaring a closed season for muskrat and mink. Four years previously the one buck law was generally ridiculed by the press and by sportsmen, and a suggestion that it might be necessary to protect muskrat was considered a bit of folly. This year, after holding 69 meetings in as many counties, and carefully presenting what the commission considered to be a pressing necessity for protecting deer and muskrat, sentiment was so strong for such protection that we have declared a one year's closed season for muskrat and mink, and have reinstated the one buck law."

Anatole France To Marry Woman Who Aided Him, Is Report

Famous French Author to Wed
in 77th Year, Says
Paper

PARIS—Anatole France, 77, world renowned French author, is to be married shortly to Mlle. Emma La Prevotte, according to an announcement published in L'Ouvreur. Ten years ago the veteran academician was reported engaged to Mlle. Brindeau, the actress. Her mother while returning from Buenos Aires. His sea romance was running smoothly until a certain Mme. Caillaud appeared on the scene with demands for instant satisfaction under pain of all sorts of revelations.

Mme. Caillaud said the romantic author was indebted to her for substantial aid she gave him while he was struggling for recognition.

M. France, whose real name is Jacques Thibault, is, by common consent, the leading French critic. He comes of one of the most notable Jewish families of Paris.

For half a century, he has been producing works in the realms of fancy, irony, poetry, fiction and criticism. Among his better known works are "Thais" and "The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard."

At the outbreak of the war M. France prevailed on M. Millerand, then premier, to allow him to enlist as a private.

Chamber of Deputies Votes Confidence

PARIS—The Chamber of Deputies, after a debate on interpellations concerning the foreign and domestic policies of the government, voted confidence in the government. Premier Leygues then read a decree adjourning the extraordinary session of parliament.

ARMOUR SAYS MEATS TO DROP

Says Big Corn Crop Will Bring Further
Reductions

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co., has issued the following statement:

"The price cutting movement that has just started in the automobile, textile and metal industries began in the meat industry as soon as the war was over and livestock today are at lower price levels than at any time in the last three years.

"That the lower levels have not been reflected to a greater degree in the retail price of meat is due to the tremendous drop in the value of by-products. Both hides and wool, which are big credits toward the cost of cattle and sheep, are selling at tremendous discounts on the prices which prevailed a year ago. Even so, meat at wholesale is nearer pre-war levels today than most other essentials.

"There is no immediate prospect for further reductions in wholesale prices of meat, but the excellent corn crop in the making promises cheaper production and will probably make possible further reductions next year.

"Getting back to normal is highly desirable, but in the case of food, the original producers have already suffered heavy losses and if adequate production is to be maintained, these losses must not be augmented."

National Safety Men Meet in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—More than 100 municipalities throughout the country are represented at the ninth annual convention of the National Safety council which opened a five days' meeting here today. The organization was launched in Milwaukee eight years ago and has grown from an original membership of 14 to over 4,000. Housed in the big auditorium where the convention is held is the greatest exhibit of safety devices that ever assembled under one roof.

Little Girl Struck By a Street Car

May Mintz, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Mintz, 320 N. Warren st., was badly injured late Saturday evening when struck by a street car while crossing University ave. She was with her mother when the accident happened. After being taken to the Bradley Memorial hospital, she was removed to the general hospital and later taken home.

Big Increase in City Property Valuation

An increase of $7,301,437 in the value of Madison property over last year's assessment is announced by Richard Taylor, city assessor, who has just completed the city's assessment roll. The new valuation is $81,040,021. Real estate is valued at $68,636,700, and personal property at $12,403,321.

With Coal $20 A Ton!

The Demonstration Today and Tomorrow of the Cole Hot Blast and Coal Stoves

should be of immense interest. A factory expert will explain everything.

THE HOT BLAST HEATER

Guaranteed to save 1-3 in fuel. Guaranteed to hold fire with soft or hard coal from Saturday evening until Monday morning.

Guaranteed to give uniform heat day and night, with soft or hard coal.

Uses any fuel—this heater will hold fire perfectly and give all the heat available from hard coal, soft coal, crushed coke, wood and slabs.

In it we offer to you—a heater in which the fire is not out from fall until spring; a heater that will not puff and is the most easily-kept clean; a heater that will save you money in greatly reduced fuel bills. Decide now—will coal so high are you going to use more than necessary? Put this handsome and economical heater in your home today.

THE HOT BLAST RANGE

With it you can bake, boil, wash and iron, all at the same time. It produces these results with the fuel (gases) that are wasted by all other ranges. Will soon pay for itself in the fuel it saves.

THE HI-OVEN RANGE

Will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning. Keeps the kitchen warm day and night. Burns any available fuel. Baking qualities equal any other range. Does quick work.

Here we have explained only a few of the points of superiority found in these wonderful stoves.

The demonstration is all day Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27 and 28. We want every person interested in a home to be present—we urge you because we are so confident that these stoves are just what people need this winter to cut the coal consumption.

SEES DROP IN FOOD PRICES

President of Retail Grocers
Association Forecasts
Slump

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—A general reduction in food prices was predicted today by Sol Westerfeld, president of the Retail Grocers' association, who declared all articles of food, with the exception of eggs and butter, are due for a steady decline. The unwillingness of banks to loan money except at high interest rates has resulted in producers cutting prices to move their goods, Westerfeld said.

"The reductions have been felt all over Chicago," he said. "Potatoes are selling at 45 to 55 cents a peck, the lowest in years. I expect they will reach less than two cents a pound. Tomatoes are selling at 10 to 15 cents for two and one half pound baskets. Sugar has dropped to 15 cents and will go lower when the new crop comes in. Canned goods being packed will have to be sold cheaply to move it. The declines in wheat have brought a sharp drop in flour," he continued, "although the baker's production costs have increased, I look for a reduction in bread. Coffee has dropped 10 cents a pound."

Dr. Walter Hicks, Menominee, Dies

MARINETTE, Wis.—Dr. Walter H. Hicks, Menominee, Mich., one of the best known surgeons of this section, died yesterday on a yacht while returning home from Fish Creek where he had gone on a fishing trip. He was ill when the boat left Fish Creek but it was thought he would reach home. Heart failure is attributed as the cause of his death. He was 75 years old and is survived by his wife and one son.

vocable by congress. The objections which have been made to the League do not bear analysis. It is plain that we retain entirely in our own mind and hand the decision as to what action shall in each case be taken by the United States.

"I desire to say to you now that all through this period when I was constantly consulted by the Chinese I received the greatest help and encouragement from my knowledge of the ideas and practices of the commonwealth of Wisconsin.

Wisconsin As Model
"In the transformation of this vast oriental population into a more modern state, these ideas of a true commonwealth of people living in a fairly equal condition, having at heart the welfare of the community, were an inspiration, and every institution tested in Wisconsin could be made a touchstone for there. I mention this in order that you may know how much my previous life and work in Wisconsin meant to me, and so that you may understand that when the very honorable invitation came from you to the nomination for the position of United States senator, I accepted, though many reasons of a personal and prudential nature seemed to counsel another course.

"In the past our industry has suffered very greatly from the presence of a speculative financial control. This has been seen not only in such railway manipulations as that of the New Haven, but in connection with a great many manufacturing industries. It is not in the interest of labor, of technical expert, of the public, nor of the industry itself, that control dominated by such motives should be possible, and the organization of credit should be such as to exclude this kind of manipulation."

HAZED IN COFFIN.

APPLETON—Milton Nelson, Rascal, president of the freshman class of Lawrence college, experienced a harrowing three hours when he was bundled into a coffin and transported from his prison on the north shore of Lake Winnebago to North park, Oshkosh, where annual all college day events were held. Nelson had been captured the night before by the sophomores who spirited him to an empty cottage on the lake shore where he was held prisoner until the following morning, when he was packed in the coffin, loaded on a motor boat and hauled to the picnic grounds.

City Water Works Good Says Smith

Madison has as good a water works system as any that can be found in a city of 50,000, according to Leon A. Smith, superintendent. The plant could supply more water than the fire department could possibly use, even if it were to keep 12 hydrants going day and night. This would require more firemen than the city has. A meeting of the committee appointed by the Association of Commerce to consider the fire underwriters' report will be held Tuesday noon at the Madison club. On the committee are R. J. Neckerman, John C. White, Jabe Alford, G. H. Mason, F. W. Karstens, E. E. Parker and F. E. Caughey.

Harding Promises Business Stability

MARION, Ohio—An era of business stability and of business-like government was promised by Sen. Harding today in a front porch speech to several thousand commercial, travellers who came from all parts of the country under the auspices of the Harding and Coolidge Traveling Men's league. The business methods of the Democratic administration were denounced by the Republican nominee as "reckless and autocratic to a degree threatening industrial chaos. He outlined a policy of common counsel in contrast to "one man judgment" and pledged himself to "an idealism based on such sense that it does not treat the nation's business with suspicion and contempt."

Health Film Will Feature Session Of Meeting Here Tuesday

State Health Officers Invite Public to Hear Program in Madison

"The End of the Road" has been selected as the film to be presented before the health officers of the state Tuesday night in the assembly chamber. The general public also is invited, but will be admitted to balconies only. This film, the most graphic expose of the dangers of social disease ever produced, has had more than 600 showings in Wisconsin by the bureau of social hygiene of the state board of health.

The public also is invited to hear Dr. W. A. Evans, of the Chicago Tribune, Wednesday at 2 p. m. He will speak on "Seasonal Incidence of Disease."

The fifth biennial conference of health officers opens tomorrow morning at 9, with registration. The first day's program, starting at 10, will include the following:

Address of welcome, Mayor I. M. Kittleson. Paper, "Value of Public Health Work," L. W. Bridgman, Madison; discussion, Dr. Fred B. Welch, Janesville, and Dr. Frank A. Southwick, Stevens Point. Paper, "Tuberculosis Clinics," Theodore Werlo, W. A. T. A., Milwaukee; discussion, Dr. F. J. Gustin, Green Bay, and Dr. G. Windeheim, Kenosha. Question box.

Afternoon—Paper, "Shorewood's Experience in the Control of Communicable Diseases," W. C. Sicker, Shorewood; discussion, Dr. L. W. Field, Beloit; paper, "How to Measure the Efficiency of Local Health Officers," Dr. Robert Oleason, Madison; discussion, Dr. W. W. Johnson, Racine, and Dr. W. W. Armstrong, La Crosse. Paper, "Useful and Unusual Health Activities," L. W. Hutchcroft, Madison; discussion, Dr. C. J. Schulte, Platteville, and Dr. T. C. Proctor, Sturgeon Bay. Question box. A registration of 350 public health workers is anticipated.

Mrs. Seymour to Raise G. A. R. Fund

Mrs. Helen Seymour, member of the William Vilas circle, an allied society of Lucius Fairchild post, G. A. R., was unanimously elected by the circle to act in any way she might think best to raise money to pay off the remaining debt on the Grand Army hall of Madison. The amount to be raised now stands at $600. Mrs. Seymour planned and was very active in the recent day when over $2,000 was raised. The members of the local post hope that all citizens interested in seeing the debt paid off will unite with Mrs. Seymour in raising the required amount.

Eruptions of the Skin Cause Torturous Itching

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disorder, you are well acquainted with the flaming, burning itching that these diseases produce. So many people continue to suffer from eczema, tetter, and other forms of skin disease because they do not seek the source of their suffering, and no disease can be successfully combated unless attacked at its source.

Skin diseases are caused by an impurity or disorder in the blood, and there is no real and genuine relief within your reach until such impurities are removed. This explains why disappointment

MARKETS

WHEAT PRICES LOWER TODAY

Persistent Selling in Market Causes Opening Drop

CHICAGO—Persistent selling in small lots had a bearish effect today on wheat. The selling appeared to be based on the general downward swing of commodity prices. Breaks which resulted forced wheat values to the lowest level yet since the resumption of trading in future deliveries. After opening 1/4 cent off to 1/2 cent advance, with Dec. 2.17 1/2 @ 2.19 1/2 and March 2.11 @ 2.12 1/2, the market fell sharply all around but then recovered to about Saturday's finish.

Houses with seaboard connections absorbed the selling later, and the market scored a steep advance. Prices closed strong, 3/4 cent to 1 cent higher, with Dec. 2.23 1/2 @ 2.25 1/2, and Mar. 2.17 1/2 @ 2.18 1/2.

CORN

Corn showed strength owing to unfavorable weather. Temporarily, however, the market was depressed by the weakness of wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 cent decline to 1/4 cent advance with Dec. 93 1/2 to 94 1/2, were followed by a sag all around, and then by decided upturns.

Frost in the west and northwest led subsequently to a material upturn of values. The close was nervous, 2 cents to 3 1/2 cent higher Dec. 96 @ 96 1/2.

OATS

Oats reflected the strength of corn starting 1/2 cent to 3/4 cent higher, Dec. 57 1/2 to 58 1/2, and continuing firm.

PROVISIONS

Provisions lacked support.

STOCKS LOSE AFTER OPENING

Early Gains Followed by Decline in Many Issues

NEW YORK — Gains made at the opening of today's market were lost before the end of the first hour, when last week's heavy selling movement of prominent industrials and specialties was resumed. Losses of 2 to 6 points were sustained by Bethlehem, Crucible, Republic and Nova Scotia steels, Chandler and Studebaker motors, Baldwin Locomotive, Bosch Magneto, Hide and Leather preferred and American woolen. Coppers, shippings, corn products, food products and coca cola also fell 1 to 2 points. Early advances in the rails were forfeited when industrials became heavy. Call money opened at seven per cent and British exchange was steady.

The cheaper western and south-western railway issues registered additional gains later, but industrial made only feeble rallies. The closing was heavy.

ELOPERS ARE UNDER ARREST IN STOUGHTON

Claim Dewey Thompson Ran Off With Another Man's Wife

STOUGHTON—W. L. Hall, owner of a big farm near Artesian, S. D., took steps Friday to cause the arrest here of Dewey Thompson, of this city, the 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. "Link" Thompson, residing on Harrison street. The young man, it seems, has been employed on Hall's farm, but on Monday he left, going to Mitchell, S. D., where he on Tuesday was joined by Mrs. Hall who had driven from Artesian in her husband's new Ford touring car, taking with her, her two-year-old son. From Mitchell, Mrs. Hall and Thompson motored here together, arriving Friday afternoon at the farm home of Thompson's sister, Mrs. Chester Pierce near Albion, where he left Mrs. Hall while he went on to this city. Shortly after dinner Friday, Chief of Police Hanson, however, had been notified by the sheriff of Sanborn county, in which Artesian is located to be on the lookout for Thompson, and soon after the latter had driven into a local garage with his car, he was placed under arrest by Chief Hanson, who Saturday drove out to the Pierce farm and also took Mrs. Hall into custody.

Word has been sent to Woonsocket, at the county seat of Sanborn county, of the arrest of the couple and officers from there are expected to arrive here in a day or so with warrants.

Mrs. Hall is 24 years of age, and besides the baby son with her, she has another son at home, 7 or 8 years.

It will not be long before Stoughton motor trucks will be seen on the streets of America's metropolis. The Stoughton Wagon Co. has made arrangements to have the New York Commercial Vehicle Co. handle its trucks in New York City, and a shipment of three trucks, of 14-ton, 2-ton and 3-ton capacity will leave the factory for the east today.

Manager George Ford of the Mo-line plant, Saturday announced that beginning this week, the plant would run eight hours a day, and only five days a week. This curtailment, Mr. Ford said, was made necessary by the sharp slackening of business, together with lack of sufficient warehouse facilities for the storage of the goods that would pile up, should the old rate of production be maintained.

The Lutheran congregations of Stoughton have invited Mr. Eidsaa, one of the foremost lay preachers of Norway, to conduct a series of meetings here, the first of which was held at the First Lutheran church on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Eidsaa will preach in the same church on Monday and Tuesday evenings, after which the meetings will be transferred to one of the other Norwegian Lutheran churches. Mr. Eidsaa will be here for nearly two weeks.

Quite a crowd of spectators, mostly children, of course, but with a liberal sprinkling of grownups, gathered in front of O. N. Falk's Son's drug store Saturday forenoon to witness the release of the pair of homing pigeons that represent the Falk drug store in the big Rexall pigeon derby to St. Louis. The new high school gymnasium was, Friday evening, the scene of a very pleasant reception tendered to the teaching staff of the city schools by the Woman's Federation. Most of the teachers were present.

E. J. Kjolseth and Ole Borrud have reached a decision to dissolve the incorporated furniture and undertaking firm known as the Kjolseth-Borrud company, in which they have been equally interested the past four years. The stock will be divided, and Mr. Borrud will continue the business in the present quarters, as he owns the building. While Mr. Kjolseth will open a new furniture and undertaking business in the Hans Peterson building recently vacated by Carl Hoel.

Mr. O. N. Halby was pleasantly reminded of her birthday anniversary Friday afternoon by about 30 friends, who gathered at her home.

THERE IS a man, IN OUR town, WHO IS so old, HE'S FORGOTTEN his age, HE WAS elevator boy, IN NEARLY all OF WASHINGTON'S headquarters, HE WAS the first, WHO BROUGHT down the house, BY ASKING why, A MEN crossed the road, SO THAT'S how old he is, HE'D JUST lost a job, THAT HE started on, IN 1862, HE SAID if he'd known, IT WASN'T permanent, HE'D NEVER have taken it, HE ALSO said, "IF A LAM needs, A WEEK of smoke, TO CURE it, I'M CURED of everything, FOR I been smoking, NIGH ON a century, THE ONLY secret of old age, IS ALWAYS keeping, ABSOLUTELY CONTENTED," AND I gave him one, OF MY cigarettes, AND HE smoked his lips, AND SAID, "That's it, THEY SATISFY."

"THEY SATISFY"—That's the word used to tie to. And there never was such a cigarette for steady company. Good tobacco, yes—but more than that. Good blending, by a private formula that can't be copied—that's why Chesterfields everlastingly "satisfy."

Consumer To Benefit By Convention Of Clothing Men, Claim

G. C. Flynn Returns Here From Meeting in Chicago

George C. Flynn, National Director and one of our leading clothiers, returned home yesterday from a visit to Chicago where he attended the National Retail Clothiers convention. He was one of more than 1,000 delegates to attend the meeting of the organization which has a membership of over 6,000 of the most progressive retail clothing merchants in the United States, embracing every state in the union.

Mr. Flynn brings good news to the wearer of clothes. After listening to clothing manufacturers in the principal markets in the United States who attended the Convention, he is of the opinion that the "peak of high prices" has been reached.

"One of the most interesting events of the convention," he said, "was the statistics brought out by Prof. Horace E. Secrist, head of the Department of Business Research of the Northwestern University, developing the fact that members of this Association were operating on the lowest margin of profit ever reported in the history of the clothing business. He indicated that the clothier wanted to do his part in bringing conditions back to a normal basis.

"Every member in that convention," Mr. Flynn declared, "was working for the stabilization of prices and to obtain lower costs for merchandise from the manufacturers. It is gratifying to report that the manufacturers were all willing and anxious to aid in price reduction. The entire labors of the convention were bent to this cause and the retailers agreed to do what they could to accomplish this purpose."

You Don't Have to Wait Always on Tanlac to Set Your Straight Declares Milwaukee Man After Trying It.

One thing I can say for Tanlac, and that is you don't have to wait long for results," said Edward George Kelber, who lives at the corner of 48th and State streets, Alois, Milwaukee, Wis.

"For ten years I suffered so bad from indigestion I never ate a meal without having severe cramping pains afterwards. Even the lightest kind of diet caused gas to form and bloated me up till I could hardly breathe and my heart would beat like a trip-hammer.

"At times I became so dizzy I had to knock off work and rest a bit, and hardly a day went by when I didn't have a bad headache. I also had such pains across the small of my back I could hardly stand it.

and at night my whole body ached so bad I couldn't sleep to do any good. I tried all kinds of medicines but steadily got worse instead of better and had gotten to where I could hardly stay on the job."

"My aunt got such splendid results from Tanlac, I decided to try it myself, and I want to say that although I am just now finishing my second bottle I am feeling better than in ten years. I can now eat like a wolf and never have those cramping pains or palpitation of the heart. I am no longer bothered with headaches or dizzy spells and the pains have disappeared from my back. I sleep soundly at night and get up in the morning feeling just fine. I can't say too much in praise of Tanlac, and never miss a chance to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by the Luckey Pharmacies, and in Mazomanie by Geo. A. Shields, in Mt. Horeb by C. C. Robertshaw, in Cambridge by Ole Bilstad, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

F. C. Blied Returns From Convention In San Antonio, Texas

Was One of Delegates to Catholic Society Annual Meet

Frank C. Blied has returned from a trip to San Antonio, Tex., where he attended a meeting of the Centralverian, a national organization of German Catholic societies. There were delegates present from all parts of the United States. A large number of delegates gathered at St. Louis from which city they went to San Antonio on a special train.

Mr. Blied is delighted with the hospitality of San Antonio which is one of the largest cities in Texas with a population of 170,000.

"The city was founded in 1751 by a group of Franciscan monks," says Mr. Blied, "where the Indians were taught agriculture as well as Christianity."

These missions are visited annually by thousands of tourists. They contain wonderful sculpture work. At one of these missions, the Alamo, in 1836 there were 183 heroes of freedom for Texas who gave battle to 4,000 Mexicans. The defenders of the Alamo stood their ground until the last man met death."

There were several other delegates present from Wisconsin at the Centralverian convention. Mr. Blied was in the south for about two weeks.

Three Conventions—The Wisconsin Health officers will have their fifth biennial meeting Tuesday to Thursday. Thursday the Regional Red Cross workers, including representatives from Janesville, Beloit, Monroe, Fort Atkinson and Portage, as well as other towns in this district, will gather here and discuss their problems. City superintendent of schools will meet here Thursday to Saturday. C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction will preside.

Babies Prosper—Marinette and Madison rank among the cities of the United States where babies have the best chance," according to the annual statistical report of the American Child Hygiene association, Baltimore, covering 1919. Only eight of the 269 cities in the United States covered by the reports had infant mortality rates under 50 per 1,000 population.

Baptist Program—Members of the Baptist Young People's cabinet, meeting at the home of the student secretary, Joseph B. Gleason, voted to support a program for the year which will contain many innovations. All old and new students will be called upon by a committee in an attempt to interest them in church activities. Bible class work will be accomplished through senior and junior mixers, led by Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Joseph Gleason. Philatheas will be conducted by J. O. Hertzler of the University Economics department.

Librarians Meet—The 29th annual meeting of the Wisconsin Library association will take place in the capitol Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 11, 12, and 13. Prof. F. W. Paxson of the university will give an address on the history of the present. Dr. F. H. Leese, librarian of the Carnegie library of Flushing, will speak on "Dollars and Ideals." Other notable speakers will appear.

Autos Collide—A truck belonging to the Grease corporation, Wisconsin grocers, struck a touring car driven by John Shore and knocked it onto the sidewalk at W. Mifflin and Henry sts., Saturday afternoon. No one was injured.

Postpone Hearings—The naturalization session of circuit court which was to have been held the third Monday in January, will be called the third Monday in February instead, according to an order issued Saturday by Judge Stevens. All petitions filed in the future will be acted upon on the third Monday in February, May, September and November.

Plan Program—A program for fire prevention day in Madison is being arranged for by a committee appointed by the Association of Commerce which meets tonight at 8 o'clock. Members are A. W. Schukamp, Chief C. W. Heyl, Platt Whitman, J. Florin, R. J. Neckerman, J. C. Ford, J. J. McWilliams and I. O. Sears.

Buys Pharmacy—Clarence V. Vreeland of Milwaukee has purchased the Luckey pharmacy at 902 E. Johnson st., according to Claude Luckey, who has conducted the store for nine years. Mr. Vreeland was formerly employed by Mr. Luckey. Mr. Luckey owns another store at 520 W. Washington ave.

Guard Units—The muster of the Governor's Guards, Madison crack cavalry troop into the federal service Friday night, made a total of 71 units to be mustered into the Wisconsin national guard.

STEVENS POINT—Martin Reisdorf, of the town of New Hope was fined $33 and costs, after pleading guilty in county court to the charge of having in his possession two large mottled black bass under the minimum length provided by the state law. This is the third conviction for violation of state game laws in a week's time.

WHERE THE MONEY MUST COME FROM.

Telephone facilities did not keep pace with growth, during the war, because the government put strict limits on new construction. Now labor and materials are high.

During war time, if the government income from telephone service did not pay the bills, Uncle Sam went down in his pocket and made out the deficit out of taxes.

It is really much fairer for the user of the telephone, who gets the benefit, to pay what the service is worth.

Improvements must keep pace with the public's demands, and there is no way for the Telephone Company to get the money to pay for them, except by an increase of rates.

Increased facilities increase the value of the service to every subscriber.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 27 years old, married eight years, and have two children. Now I am in deep trouble. I have been in divorce proceedings (that was about three years ago) but forgave my husband and took him back on his promise to reform.

As it was all in vain and proved worse than ever, I again started a suit. But my husband begs me and says he is willing to do anything in the world for me just to forgive and to forget.

I am a nervous wreck and under a doctor's care at present. At times I think to unite and again I don't, as I could never forget the wrong he did me. I know if I went back I could not stand it any longer, for it is serious and a thing I cannot mention. The secrets of my married life are deep in my heart and they cannot be forgotten.

So Does the Price!

My husband said he loved me dearly. He showed a kind heart towards me, but he has an awful temper and is unreasonable. I can't say I love him, but still like him.

Do you think I should forgive (not forget, as I could not) for the sake of my two sweet children, and take the burden upon me which will keep me in poor health and nervous? I am a Catholic and do not believe in divorce. Please give me your best advice. I think that divorce in such a condition is necessary before I sacrifice my life for one man and leave my minor children behind which need me and my care.

I believe that divorce is justifiable in many cases. Since you believe that life with your husband will seriously impair your health and result in death, it is only reasonable that you should prefer to save your self for your children. You have not told me the cause of your trouble, but I can see from your letter that it is most serious. Perhaps your physician can advise you in such a way that you will feel more confident that you are choosing the right course.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Last year at school I used to keep company with a young man who went out of town to live right after graduation. He asked me to write to him and gave me his address. I wrote and did not receive an answer until yesterday. He says he has been away most of the time and is ashamed that he has not written before. He asks me to forgive him and to give him another chance. He says if I will answer this time I will never have any cause to complain.

I would like to correspond with him. Should I do as he says?

Yes, write to him. Do not refer to his former neglect.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl at the age of sixteen. I accidentally met a boy who fell in love with me. I do not seem to love him, as he talks so foolishly when he is out with me. I have been out with him twice and I know he loves me and will ask me to marry him, but I don't want to marry him.

He is twenty-three years old and good-looking. He promised me things and has not kept his word. Please tell me how I can break his love before we will become engaged? SWEET SIXTEEN

"No" is the solution of your problem. It is not necessary to become engaged if you say no when he asks you to.

I do not believe you should be going with the young man. Wait until you are a year or two older before you go with young men. In the meantime study and enjoy your girl friends.

Governor's Guards Hold First Rank

The highest rank of any national guard company in Michigan and Wisconsin is held by the governor's guard, local headquarters company, according to Lt. Col. Colin Ball, who inspected the troopers last night and received the muster roll at the local armory. He gave a short talk to the cavalymen, emphasizing the responsibility for an organization holding the position that Madison troopers co. The muster roll now shows a total of 56 enlisted men and three officers. An athletic club and a polo team will be organized as an inducement for men to remain in the company.

AT THE THEATERS

At the Orpheum—Starting tonight with two performances and continuing for three days, with a special popular priced matinee Wednesday, the vaudeville program at the Orpheum will consist of the following six acts: Miss Hope Eden, The Miracle Girl, and "Frescott," The Master Mind, in a demonstration of mind reading; Larry Conner, well known to the theater patrons of road attractions, will appear in "An Intimate Song Revue," offering some old and some new songs. Ralph Rumba's "Maryland Singers" will offer songs of the Sixties, featuring Charles Frank, Marie Slade, Hortense Morehart, Helene Jackson, and Mabel Moran. In a rural satire "Umpsville," a sequel to their last season's act, "The Belle of Bingham," Fred Whitfield and Marie Ireland will be seen. Two peppery peppers, Neal Helvey and Fred Brill, will offer a repertoire of instrumental and vocal numbers, and Dewitt Young and company open the show with an unusually clever offering in "Black and White." The Kinogram and Topics of the Day pictures will also be shown.

At the Grand—Now and then a picture comes along that seems defective in a number of ways, yet cleans up big everywhere. Such a picture is "The Yellow Typhoon," and we will be surprised if it doesn't chalk up some high box office figures. Not that this is a poor picture. It is, as a whole, well made from a good story, with capable acting, but so much material has been put into it that the story tends to confuse at times. The story was written by Harold MacGrath, and appeared serially in the Saturday Evening Post.

At the Fuller—Labor unrest is the central theme of "Uncharted Channels," the Jesse D. Hampton production starring the celebrated actor, H. B. Warner, which will be seen at the Fuller theater today. A Warner, noted as the "candy" of the stage and screen, makes a radical departure from his usual roles in this comedy-drama dealing with a problem occupying daily the front pages of newspapers and intimately interesting to wage-earner and white-collar man alike.

At the Strand—The woman who sees no good in any child but her own is a familiar figure in every neighborhood. Of course, as a matter of fact, children are all pretty much alike, with slight variations in noses and eyes and minor details. But no mother will believe it and a good many mothers look with cold disfavor upon all children save their own. Such a mother is one of the important figures in "The Soul of Youth," the great William D. Taylor boy film which is now showing at the Strand theater. As added attractions, The University of Wisconsin Pageant and Welcome to college students, pictures taken during the ceremonies Friday, will be shown in addition to a comedy cartoon and the latest News Weekly.

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Around the house and past the kitchen Billy tore, with his horns entangled in the clothes line, scattering chickens right and left, and followed by all the dogs, yelping and barking and thinking it the greatest fun that had happened in a long time. Around to the front of the house went the queer procession and straight through Mrs. Sanders' pet geranium bed, all scarlet with beautiful blossoms that Billy's samples of wet clothing smashed down flat.

Mrs. Sanders was just opening the front door to scrub off her porch when she saw her clothes making such a queer trip. Of course she ran out, but just as she stooped to catch the line a flapping sheet whipped around her foot and gave her a jerk that sent her rolling over in the grass, while the rest of the string of clothes swept on over her, some of the wet garments dragging right across her face. She was not hurt a bit and she even had to laugh at what a ridiculous figure she must have cut if any body had been looking, but nevertheless she took after Billy and her clothes again. Billy, by this time, had made a circle which wiped out a pansy bed and now, frantic to get away from this strange harness and from his tormenter, the crowd, he made a dash for the open front door. The line of clothes caught on the front step, but now Billy was going so fast that the undershirt tore and let him kick himself free. Moreover, as it passed on over his back it caught Jimmy Tarwings, and for the second time that morning swept him from Billy's back. This time he was in a worse fix than before, for the wet garment, in springing back, rolled him up in a tight wad and thumped him back on the steps.

Billy dashed straight on toward an open door across the room. He was so confused that he did not see exactly where he was going and did not dodge the center table quite in time. He ran against one leg of it, and over the table went with a crash, throwing a big lamp over and spilling it on the sofa, drenching it with oil and breaking a lot of choice china bric-a-brac that Mrs. Sanders had collected.

But through the kitchen Billy hurried with the dogs, Mrs. Sanders right after him. The kitchen door was closed, but the window was open, so Billy gave a jump through it, and here he made more trouble, for on a low, wide shelf, just outside the kitchen window, Mrs. Sanders had placed some pies which she had just taken from the oven. Billy landed on this shelf and upset it, throwing all the pies upside down on the ground, while the dogs came pouring out of the window in such haste that some of them turned somersaults when they reached the gravel. Even the collie puppies had toddled behind on this chase, and now they could be heard yelping in the kitchen and wishing that they too could jump through windows. Billy began to think it was time for him to get away from there, so he whirled again for the front of the house, ran with all his might down to the gate and jumped square over it into the road outside.

Cut Rubber Output To Keep Prices Up

LONDON—To raise the price of raw rubber, drastic steps are contemplated by the Rubber Growers' association, which represents one-third of the owners of the 3,000,000 acres of rubber under cultivation. The association suggests to members and to other plantation owners that they so reduce their tapplings of rubber trees as to effect reduction in output 25 per cent.

CANNING TIME.

Canned Tomatoes—Four boiling water over ripe tomatoes and remove skins; cut in pieces, put in a preserving kettle and cook slowly without the addition of water until thoroughly scalded. Fill jars as usual.

Tomatoes Canned Whole for Winter—Select firm, smooth fruit, not over-ripe and of a size to slip into the ordinary fruit jar. Peel without breaking and with as little scalding as possible. Have ready a preserving kettle full of water which has been salted slightly, only enough to taste. Just before the water reaches boiling point drop in the tomatoes one layer at a time and heat them through thoroughly. Do not allow the water to boil. Put fruit in jars, fill with the hot salted water and cover quickly. Seal tops of jars with paraffin.

Orange Marmalade—Four lemons, eight oranges, four pounds of sugar.

Remove peel from fruit and cook until soft in enough water to cover, drain and scrape white part from rind with a spoon. Cut thin yellow rind in strips with scissors. Divide oranges in sections, remove seeds and tough skin and put them into a preserving kettle. Heat gradually to boiling point, add sugar gradually and cook very slowly over a low flame one hour. Add the rind and cook one hour longer; then turn into glasses.

Rhubarb Jam—Six pounds rhubarb, two lemons, five pounds sugar, one pound figs or strawberries, according to taste.

Cut rhubarb in small pieces with skin on, mix with sugar and let stand over night. In the morning cut figs (or strawberries) and lemons in small pieces, add rhubarb and sugar and cook very slowly over a low flame four hours.

SIMPLE COOKIE RECIPES.

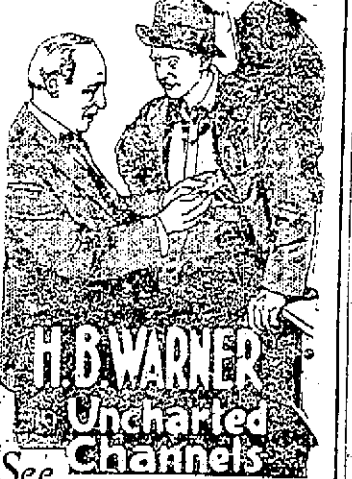

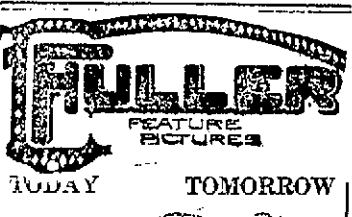

Chocolate Cookies—One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-quarter teaspoon salt, two squares chocolate, two and one-half scant cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter cup milk.

Mix in usual way, add melted chocolate just before adding flour. Roll thin, shape with small cutter and bake in hot oven.

Surprise Cookies—One cup sugar, one-half cup shortening, one egg, one-half cup milk, two teaspoons cream tartar, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon vanilla. Mix, roll thin and shape. Put cookies in buttered pans, place a teaspoon of filling on each, not allowing it to spread to the edge; place another cookie gently on top and bake in usual way.

Filling: One cup chopped raisins, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon flour, one-half cup water. Cook until thick, stirring carefully, as it burns easily.

Lean Cakes—One tablespoon butter well creamed, one cup sugar, two scant teaspoons baking powder, one cup uncooked rolled oats, one cup corn flakes, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup flour, two well-beaten eggs, one scant teaspoon almond extract. Mix and drop from teaspoon on buttered tins. Bake in hot oven.

How the son of a millionaire, left without a bank account, beat a gang of social scallawags at their own game. A whimsical drama of Love, Laughter and Society Lepers.

White Sox Keep Pace By Winning and Trail Indians By Half Game

DODGERS TRIM GIANTS AND TIGHTEN GRIP ON PENNANT; YANKS KEEP IN A. L. RACE

Indians Must Lose Three Games to Let White Sox Cop Bunting; Giants Can Tie Robins by Winning Every Game; Reds and Cards Win

THE Chicago White Sox are still trailing in the American league pennant race. They won Sunday's game with Detroit, but so did Cleveland. As a result, Cleveland leads the league by a half a game, and with seven games to play, is a favorite over the Pale Hose, who have but four games remaining on their schedule. If the White Sox win their remaining four games, a thing which is considered probable, Cleveland must lose three contests. The White Sox would then win the pennant by half a game.

Cicotte pitched the Gleasonites to easy victory over Detroit yesterday 8 to 1. As usual, Eddie allowed the run to count in the first inning, and then settled down while the Sox wrecking machine got to work and pounded in runs. The Hose made eleven hits in all, Cicotte, Strunk, Felsch and J. Collins each collecting two bingles. Strunk opened the game for the Sox with a double, and took third on Weaver's out. Hap Felsch scored Amos after Collins and Jackson had been passed, with a long sacrifice fly. Then followed a wild pitch, and a single by John Collins, and three runs were chalked up. The Sox added two more in the fourth on two hits, and scored three in the sixth on four bingles.

By bunting hits on Tyler in the fifth and on Martin in the sixth, St. Louis scored enough for an easy win over Chicago on Sunday, 6 to 3. North pitched effectively after getting away to a bad start. In the last seven innings the Cubs got only two hits.

Displaying a genuine pennant punch, the Indians retained first place by defeating the Browns yesterday, 7 to 5.

Cleveland opened with three runs against Weiland. With one out for the Browns Geddon doubled and Sisler singled. Wamby made a wild throw on Jacobson's grounder. Smith doubled and Tobin singled for four runs, finishing Caldwell. Uhle went to the hill and hit Austin. Severid fanned and Lamb, batting for Weiland, singled to left, scoring Tobin with the fifth run of the inning.

Uhle held the Browns then until the eighth when he lost control. With one out Severid was hit, and Billings walked. Coveleskie relieved Uhle and Gerber popped to O'Neill while Geddon grounded to Johnson. The Indians passed the Browns in the third. With one out, Smith singled and beat DeBerry's throw to second on Gardner's tap. Johnston batted for Wood and walked, filling the bases. Sewell scored two with a double to right. Johnston was caught at the plate on O'Neill's grounder and Uhle scored Sewell with a single to center. In the seventh Johnston drove in Gardner with a triple.

Brooklyn went one step nearer the National league championship by defeating New York, 4 to 2, and now needs only one victory to clinch the pennant. As the race now stands between the Robins and Giants, the former can lose all their remaining games and the best the Giants could do by winning all they have to play would be to make it a tie.

Brooklyn's victory was due to the masterly pitching of Marquard and timely hitting by his mates. Toney started for New York, but was touched for four hits and one run in the first two innings.

Douglas, who succeeded him, kept the Brooklyn players off the paths until the seventh, when he was directly responsible for two runs.

Myers walked and took second on a passed ball. Konetchy and Kiluff sent fly-balls to King, and then Douglas intentionally passed Krueger. Marquard also walked, and a hit by Olson scored Myers and Krueger.

The Reds broke their losing streak of six straight games by defeating Pittsburgh 8 to 0. It was Napier's fourth victory in five games since he joined the Cincinnati club. Adams was hit hard. Glazner, a recruit from Birmingham, took Adams' place in the fourth and was also hit freely.

New York held Washington even in their final series here, winning Sunday, 9 to 5. Ward's two home runs were responsible for Zachary's downfall, the second homer coming with two on bases. Quinn eased up in the ninth, when four hits and a sacrifice fly netted three runs. Ruth made one hit, a double, which bounced off Judge's glove, and scored on Peckinpaugh's single.

By bunting hits on Tyler in the fifth and on Martin in the sixth, St. Louis scored enough for an easy win over Chicago on Sunday, 6 to 3. North pitched effectively after getting away to a bad start. In the last seven innings the Cubs got only two hits.

FROSH WORKOUT BRINGS OUT ONLY HALF OF SQUAD

Scrimmage to Begin Next Week; Almost 100 Yearlings Signed Up

Although nearly 100 huskies signed up for frosh football Friday afternoon, but a scanty half reported for the first workout on Saturday afternoon. Coach Robert Quick, who is handling the freshman footballers while Director T. E. Jones turns his attention to the varsity squad, put the yearlings through a preliminary practice consisting of instruction in charging, blocking, and tackling, and before the afternoon's program was completed, had the youngsters panting and sweating under the hot September sun.

Following is the list of freshmen signed up for the fall sport:

WILLARD MAY TRY COMEBACK

Big Jess Will Take Crack at Jack Dempsey Within Six Months, Rumor

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Jess Willard is going to fight again. Within six months, the giant Kansan, who won the world's heavyweight title championship from Jack Johnson, and lost it to Jack Dempsey, again will climb into a roped arena, and answer the call of the referee. Jack Dempsey will be Willard's opponent, and the fight will be held in New York, probably under the direction of Jack Curley and Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager. The length of the bout and other conditions will be determined by the new fissile law of New York.

Willard had had the proposal under consideration for a week, and Friday he signed a contract and mailed it to Jack Kearns in New York. This statement is made on the authority of a close friend of the former champion, who is now in training on his farm near Lawrence, Kansas.

Another friend of the ex-champion was seen in a sporting goods store buying a set of boxing gloves. This friend was Fritz Meyn, a former K. U. football lineman, who has been close to the champion since Willard took up his residence near Lawrence. Meyn was one of the champion's backers in the Toledo fight.

Meyn wasn't very talkative, but from other authoritative sources the news comes that "Big Jess" has sent his signed contract back to New York. In this contract with Curley and Kearns, Willard agrees to the terms for another bout with Dempsey the fight to be held in New York within the next six months.

Willard is said to have been guaranteed $100,000 for his share of the bout.

GOPHERS LOSE GRID CAPTAIN

Capt. Johnson Barred From Minnesota University by Ruling of Faculty

MINNEAPOLIS—Capt. Trygve Johnson of the Minnesota football team, has been lost to the Gophers along with Earl Martineau, one of the most promising backfield men on the squad. Both were barred by order of the faculty, which refused to allow them to register.

The loss of Martineau and Johnson is a result of a recent scandal at the Minnesota state fair. Both boys, along with three other university students, were found guilty of manipulating tickets at the gate. They were fined, but the news was kept quiet until yesterday, when the matter was brought before the Minnesota faculty. They were then refused entrance to the university.

Loss a Severe One.

Capt. Johnson played right tackle on the Gopher eleven for the last two years and last season won unanimous choice for all western tackle. His loss is a disastrous blow to the Gophers, as it not only deprives them of an ideal leader for the coming season, but also one of the best tackles since the days of George Hauser.

Martineau was out for the team for the first time this year, but his record in high school and his sensational work on the freshman team last year marked him as another Arnold Oss. He is the best kicker on the squad this year, having averaged from 60 to 75 yards on his boots every day since the conference season got under way.

Students to Protest.

Minnesota students intend to stage a big mass meeting protesting against the action of the faculty, but statements from Registrar Pierce and Dean Nicholson, head of student affairs, indicated any attempt to reinstate the boys would be useless. Coach Williams refused to comment on the situation, and President Lotus D. Coffman was silent.

There have not been so many slips 'twix cups and lips since people have been drinking it out of bottles.

Over a thousand people attended the motorcycle races at Sun Prairie yesterday staged by Clayton Marvanville of the Orpheum theatre. The races were run off according to program, and the rain which came up in the early afternoon served to wet down the track and allay the dust. Summaries of the results: 5 Mile Professional Race—Fred Ludlow, first; Ralph Hepburn, second; Irving Yanke, third. Time 6:23 2-5. 5 Mile Side Car Race—McNulty, first; Fred Wagner, second. Time, 8:44 2-5. 15 Mile Professional Race—Ralph Hepburn, first; Irving Yanke, second. Time 17:33 2-5. 5 Mile Amateur Race—Joe Cox, first; Ward Montgomery, second; Dick Raymond, third. Time 7:26 1-5. Pursuit Race—Won by Ralph Hepburn.

Essers Trim Muscoda In Last Game of Year

The Essers Markets baseball team of Madison yesterday won their final game of the season by defeating Muscoda at Muscoda, 6 to 2. Hoven pitched stellar ball for the locals, allowing seven hits, while Schneider of Muscoda allowed ten safe bingles. Each club made two errors. The Essers took the lead in the first inning and held it throughout the game. They added two more before Muscoda batted a run in the fifth, and were four runs to the good when Muscoda chalked up their final run in the seventh. The score by innings:

LAWRENCE TO BE BADGER FOE IN FIRST GAME

Only Two of Five Conference Battles to Be Played at Home

1920 SCHEDULE
Oct. 2—Lawrence (college) at Madison.
Oct. 9—Michigan Aggies at Madison.
Oct. 16—Northwestern at Madison.
Oct. 23—Ohio State at Columbus.
Nov. 6—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 13—Illinois at Madison (Homecoming).
Nov. 20—Chicago at Chicago.

The 1920 Wisconsin football schedule will open next Saturday afternoon in Camp Randall with Captain "Red" Weston leading his varsity eleven against Lawrence college.

The program this year calls for seven games, four of which will be battled on the home field. Although but two conference games will be played at home it is generally agreed that with the present arrangement Wisconsin stands as good chances of climbing to the top of the "Big Ten" as could be asked for.

Ohio First Hard Game
The first conflict to arise the most fear will be with Ohio State the latter part of October. After that there will be two weeks for the squad to rest after their first long trip and get in trim for the fight with the Norsemen at Minneapolis, which is always a hard one because of the historic rivalry between the Badgers and the Gophers. The next game will be played at home with Illinois and will be the occasion of the Wisconsin Homecoming celebration. The team will then go to Chicago where the curtain will drop on the season.

At Chicago Coach Richards' squad will meet the "Stagmen" to play the second game of a contract series which calls for Wisconsin-Chicago games to be held for five consecutive years at Stagg field. The purpose of this agreement, as announced when it was made, is to afford a greater number of football enthusiasts including alumni of both institutions in the vicinity of the big city a better opportunity to witness an annual conflict which is intended to arouse as much interest as the Harvard-Yale battle of the west.

No Dope on Preliminaries
How the teams coming here in the preliminary encounter will stack up against Coach Richards' men can hardly be determined. As is often the case they may work it out very hard because of the early season condition of the team. The Michigan Aggies usually come through with a squad of huskies capable of giving stiff opposition to most any foe.

Northwestern comes to Madison October 23 for the first conference game on the schedule. Usually the Purple team does not arouse much consternation among Wisconsin fans, but last year it put up an unexpected battle which hustled Richards' men to come out with the long end of the 10 to 6 score. This year there has been a shakeup of the Methodists coaching staff with McDevitt of Yale as the new grid mentor.

The week following this the varsity will go to Columbus to square last year's score. Every Badger remembers the game in which Chick Harley, thrown for losses almost every time he carried the ball, dropped kicked in the last quarter and won the game by the score of 3 to 0. Besides the grudge against Ohio there is one to be squared two weeks later with the Gophers who still have Arnold Oss in the lineup to carry the oval. Illinois and Chicago, the last two on the list, will be far from easy marks. Illinois topped the "Big Ten" as conference champion last year and is again considered a contender for the same honors.

Specialists say there is a lot of eye trouble in this country just now. Well, the styles are a bit extreme.

Ebbets Threatens To "Lick" Scalpers

NEW YORK—You're a bunch of loafers, and if I am 60 years old, I'll lick you myself if you persist in your practice at my baseball park," declared Charles H. Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn baseball club, as he shook his fist at seven men who had been convicted of ticket speculation at Ebbets field.

The speculators were arrested yesterday. Mr. Ebbets appeared in court today more in the interest of the citizens of Brooklyn, he said, than the baseball club.

"It is time this practice stopped," Mr. Ebbets said. "We have done everything in our power to prevent it, but find it impossible. We cannot tell whether a man is a speculator or not. If we are fortunate enough to get into the world series this year we are going to receive further annoyance. I am going to the district attorney about the matter, and if the Brooklyn courts will lend their aid I am sure we can stop the practice."

The men were fined $5 each.

190 More Students At Normal Schools

An increase of 190 students enrolled over last year is the report of William Kittle, secretary of the normal regents, for all the normal schools in the state. The registration this year was 8,770. Milwaukee has the largest registration with 941, an increase of 50 over last term. Wattewater has the largest increase with 122 making a total of 436. The Auditing Committee composed of Regents Jerome Baker, Whitewater, and P. W. Rammer of River Falls met to audit the statements this morning. The entire board meets in Madison Monday. They will consider the preparation of the budget for the coming two years. The last budget was $1,150,000 and it is expected that there may be an increase this year.

Overland Used Car Sale is Successful

OTTO KAHN'S ECONOMICS

OTTO H. KAHN, of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., has written a book on our economic problems. Quotations from this book are furnished by the publishers, and it is reasonable to assume that these quotations removed from their context do the author no injustice. Some of the passages sound more like the words of a radical propagandist, as for instance, the following:

"It is not material success which should be abolished; it is poverty and justified discontent which should be abolished."

Or this on the railroad problem:

"The two things, i. e. private management and permanent government guarantee of earnings are simply not reconcilable. The railroads cannot eat their cake and have it. You cannot rent your house to someone and then expect to be master of your house."

Or this on taxation:

"A small committee of well-informed men of different callings, approaching their task free from political, social and sectional bias, would not find it a formidable undertaking to evolve a measure which, while fully responsive to the dictates of equity and social justice, would produce no less revenue than the taxation now in force, and yet would be far less burdensome upon the country, less hampering to enterprise and less productive of economic disturbance and dislocation."

Knowing, however, that Mr. Kahn is not a radical propagandist, we know that he cannot have followed these truths to their logical conclusion. He necessarily had to go astray somewhere, and here is one of the false paths he has followed:

"The primary cause of poverty is underproduction."

If that were a whole truth would not the greatest wealth be found in possession of producers and none at all in the possession of non-producers? It is true, of course, that underproduction may cause poverty, but it cannot be the primary cause. There must be some reason for it. There are a few perhaps who prefer poverty to hard work. But the great mass of people prefer work to poverty. If they do not follow their preference it must be due to some interference, and the nature of that interference is not hard to locate. Very few willing workers may work without permission of the owners of opportunities. This permission is not always withheld from penniless laborers alone. It may be withheld from a worker who happens to be a capitalist. Let an owner of a million dollars, noting the high price of coal and the short time that miners are allowed to put in, propose to develop some of the unused anthracite fields in Pennsylvania with a view to changing the situation. He will soon learn that ownership of natural resources gives power to the earthowner to block production while the privilege of pocketing unearned increment, together with laws that require taxation of labor products, furnish the incentive to block it. Or, noting the housing shortage, let this enterprising capitalist try to build on vacant sites in New York or any other city. He will find again that he must reckon with the landowner and with restrictive tax laws. In fact, he may go through the whole list of industries wherein underproduction seems to be causing high prices and poverty, and he will find the primary cause to be private monopolization of land with taxation of labor and its products as a strong auxiliary.

Mr. Kahn says:

"High wages, accompanied by proportionately high cost of the essentials of living, don't do the worker any good. And they do the rest of the community a great deal of harm."

But high wages need not be accompanied by "proportionately high cost of the essentials of living." If division of labor product were limited to those who furnish the active factors in production no harm would come to any one from an equitable settlement. But when a non-producing element steps in and demands a share there is likely to be trouble. An increase in wages to railroad workers, for instance, need not be followed by increase in rates and would not be were it not for the needless grant of non-producing watered stockholders of legal power to collect dividends. Such governmental recognition of the right to collect unearned tribute is an example, which Mr. Kahn may or may not have had in mind, when he said:

"Wrong economics, however well-intentioned, have been more fruitful of harm to the people than almost any other single act of government."

No economic fallacy has been more fruitful of harm than the one that holds it essential to production that some persons privately own the natural sources of production which all workers must use.

WHAT DOES IT PROVE?

WE ARE in receipt of some press matter from the Press Service Co., 25 West 43rd street, New York.

Among other things this publicity matter carries the following statement:

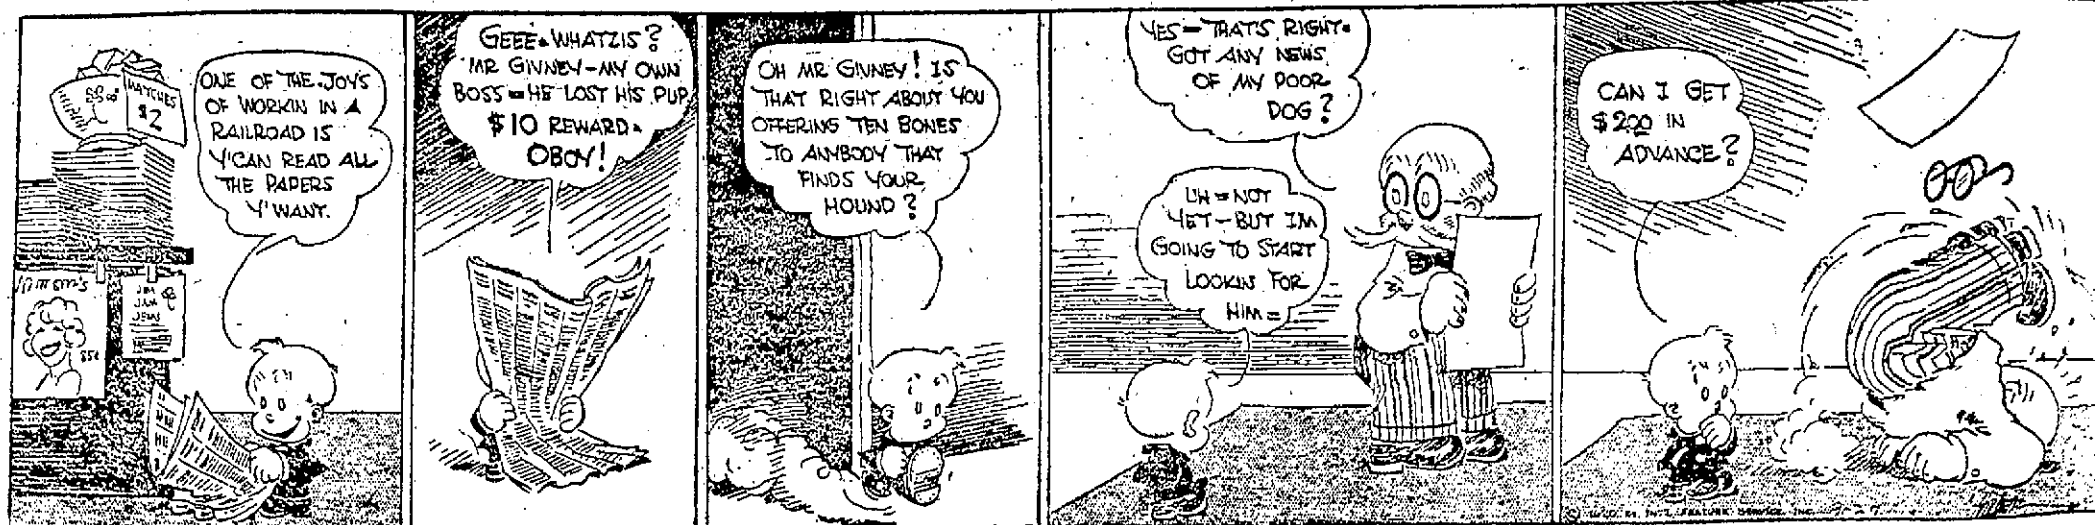

"Government operation of industries is even more unpopular than it was a year ago in the opinion of the country's newspaper editors. A questionnaire sent out by the Press Service Company of New York City asking the editors to state the sentiment of their communities regarding this question brought 5,154 replies. Of those, 4,466 or 86% declared that their readers were absolutely opposed to Government entering into business competition with its citizens."

We do not believe the important thing established here is that 86 per cent of the editors are against government ownership.

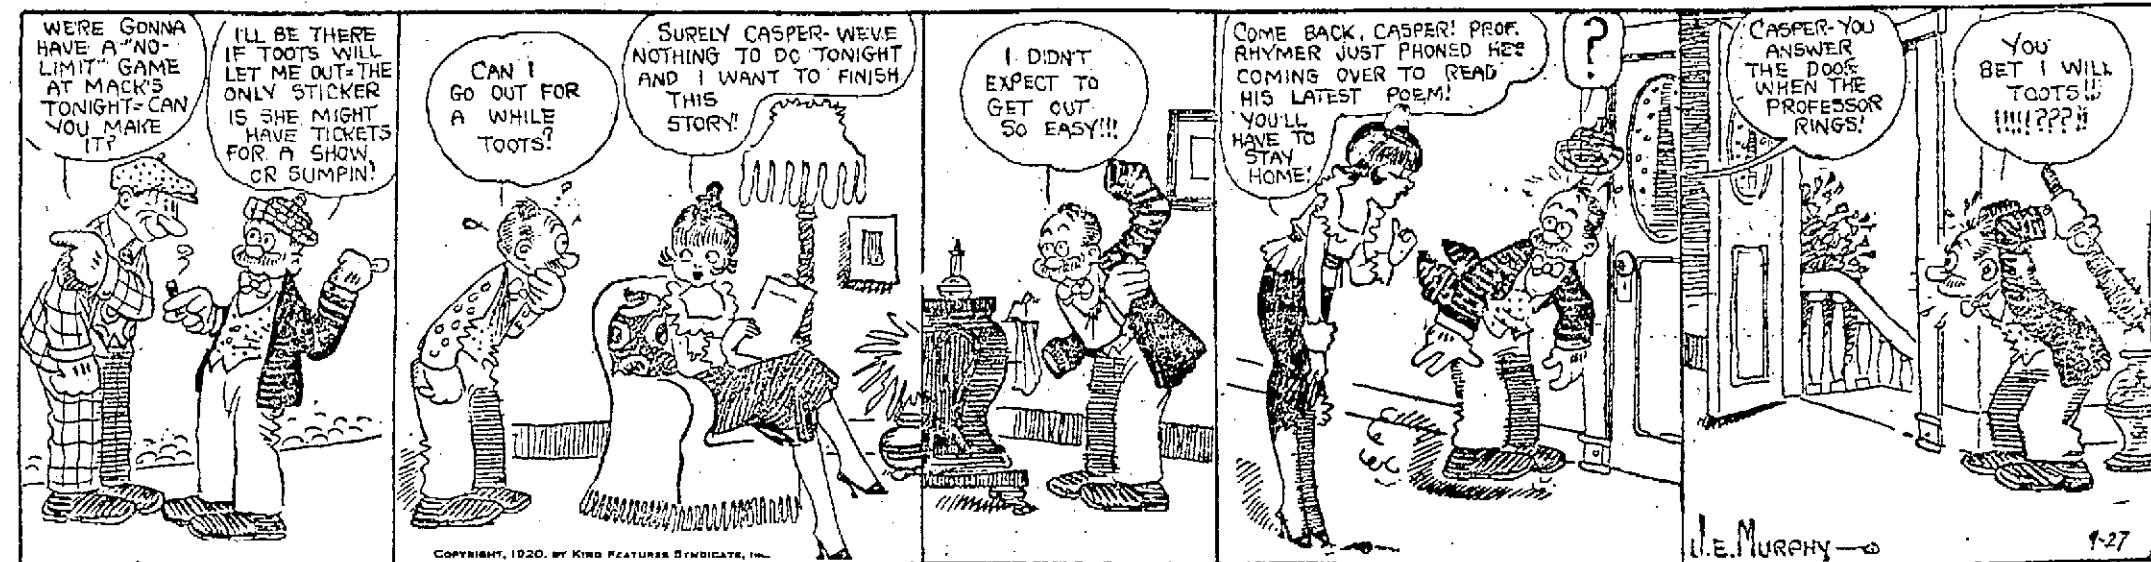

How many editors in the country DARE to take a position against those who own the public utilities in their various communities?

Wouldn't it be fair to state that 86 per cent of the editors of the country are against public ownership because they know where their bread is buttered?

Voice of the People

IS FOR WEBER

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Your leading editorial of Sept. 23 should make people begin to do some thinking for themselves. If the common people of our time would start to do their own thinking instead of giving this privilege to the "pluts," they would have been a whole lot better off today. What is the difference between the republicans and democrats, Mr. Laboringman and Mr. Farmer? Did you ever ask yourselves this question? What have they done for you in the past? Look up the record! They passed the espionage act, didn't they, and sent thousands of you common folks to jail? They made you pay for this war, didn't they? And how many millionaires did they make? You, Mr. Laboringman and Mr. Farmer, can read the figures. I cannot. Now they want this league of nations down in your throat. If they succeed, you will have to pay not only for our own war, but for England's and France's as well.

The last act was to pass the Esch-Cummings railroad law, and thereby they crowned all their legislative achievements. We will all know the story of this law in the very near future.

The senatorial situation should not be very difficult to settle. There are only two choices in my estimation—reactionary and progressive. Mr. Frank Weber, president of Milwaukee Trades Council, is the progressive candidate for U. S. senator. Mr. Weber has been trusted by the people of Milwaukee for years. He has always been working for cooperation between the farmers and the city folks to the end that all the pirates in between might be eliminated. He has always been found fighting on the side of humanity as against dollars and cents.

With the formidable strength he showed in the primary and with 43,000 McHenry votes going to him on Nov. 2, he will only need a little lift to carry the victory home.

Let us all work together and pull together, so we can be in a position to defeat the gentleman who tried to defeat the people of this commonwealth.

Common Man.

IS FOR THOMPSON

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Regarding your editorial of Sept. 22nd:

My choice is Thompson to run independent for senator. Will do all I can for him. ED NEEVEL.

BIG WHISKEY HAUL

WAUSAU—Two men claiming to be enroute from Hurley, and 200 quarts of whiskey, are safely in the Langlade county jail waiting instructions from the federal prohibition authorities. They came into Antigo about 4 o'clock in the morning in an automobile and inquired where they could secure a supply of gasoline. An inquisitive night policeman heard the tinkling of glass and investigated, finding the contraband liquor. The men pleaded to be allowed to go and were getting impatient when someone called out the fire department, after which they made no resistance.

Overthrowing the Government

History Proves That Courts of Justice and the "Higher Classes"—Not the Common People—Undermine Popular Government

By ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE
(From La Follette's Magazine)

Since his retirement from the United States Senate, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana has devoted himself mainly to historical study and literature. His recent work on the "Life of John Marshall" is considered a monumental contribution to American biography.

It has been widely reported that Beveridge has receded from the advanced principles he advocated when a Progressive leader in the Senate. The following excerpt from his address August 26, 1920, before the American Bar Association at St. Louis indicates, however, that he is entirely out of sympathy with the recent efforts of Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress to destroy the rights of free speech, free press and free assemblage.—Editor's Note.

NEXT to the achievement of national independence, the principal object for which our forefathers drew the sword and risked the hazard of punishment for treason, was to overthrow the British suppression of those very liberties which are guaranteed in our National Bill of Rights: . . . speech was to be free, conscience unfettered, and person and property secure in a sense new to mankind. The founders of the American nation intended to set up the everlasting reign of tolerance; and so obsessed of liberty were they that they really supposed they had done so.

The American people soon had an opportunity to make all this clear. European conditions were then strikingly similar to those which now appall us. The French Revolution terrified the world. Established order everywhere was threatened and quaking. The "Christian and civilized governments," as they then styled themselves, Great Britain, Prussia and Austria, combined to crush by force of arms what they fervently believed to be a menace to civilization. In many countries, but particularly in the United Kingdom and in America, the Jacobins of France had earnest adherents. In England, organizations were formed, principally among working men but including scholars and writers, for the purpose of securing democratic changes in the British constitution, such as universal suffrage and annual parliaments—reforms which, at that time, were regarded by static minds as destructive, revolutionary, anarchistic. These societies were comparatively small as to numbers and without much influence. Yet not only the royal government but also the "higher classes," as May calls them in his Constitutional History of England, became wildly alarmed; and together with men of property and substance everywhere, formed counter-societies for the purpose of preserving law, order, and the existing Constitution. It was these societies that Sir Thomas Erskine publicly branded as enemies of freedom.

Terrorism a Century Ago

THESE organizations raised funds, employed spies, and in every way supported and encouraged the government in a crusade to suppress and punish obnoxious writings and speeches; and everywhere men were arrested, indicted, tried, and convicted for sedition or constructive treason. Mere statements which today are the commonplaces of liberty, were condemned as incitements to subvert the British Constitution and overthrow the government. A period of repression and suppression occurred—a legal reign of terror. Judges held to be criminal mere proposals to change or improve British institutions. One eminent justice avowed that universal suffrage "would unquestionably be tantamount to a total subversion of this British constitution"—a statement typical of those which, at that time, fairly spouted from the bench. Among felons that crowded the "convict ships" bound for Australia, were occasional heroes of conscience, some of the best and noblest characters in the kingdom, deported for sedition and constructive treason.

The Government procured the enactment of the celebrated repressive measures of 1795. Fox denounced them as destructive of liberty, and prophesied that they would increase the agitation they were designed to suppress. Arrests, trials, convictions increased. In the name of patriotism a sort of holy war against ideas was proclaimed and ruthlessly carried on, the government required everybody to encase their minds in a straight-jacket of conventional thinking. The British Sedition Act of 1795 declared mere membership in certain societies to be criminal; thus came the recrudescence of that doctrine of tyranny, "guilt by association." Men were prosecuted not for overt acts, but for belonging to the proscribed societies. Yet no real danger existed. The great body of the British people were sound. They abhorred the French Revolution, its practices and its doctrines, as much as King George himself.

At the same time there was a similar alarm in America, and with better reason; for great numbers of Americans were earnest sympathizers with the French Revolution. Formidable organizations modeled on the Jacobin

Clubs of France and calling themselves "Democratic Societies," were formed in many States. Through these the gospel of French republicanism was sown broadcast. Certain classes thought they saw in all this a movement for radical change in American institutions and the overthrow of the government. Their frightened eyes beheld the destruction of private property, the downfall of religion, the utter disruption of society. These men sincerely felt that the only method of preserving order and liberty was not by meeting radical arguments in open discussion and demonstrating their fallacy, but by suppressing them altogether.

The Alien and Sedition Laws

AT this evil moment our relations with the French Republic reached the breaking point. But for the moderation of John Marshall, then Secretary of State, that war with France which actually raged on the oceans for two years, would have been formally declared. French partisans and French propagandists increased their activities; and then in an hour of madness and in the midst of terrific popular excitement, the Federalist majority in Congress enacted the Alien and Sedition laws of 1798. . . . Republican Congressmen bitterly resisted the Alien and Sedition bills; they said that those measures violated the guarantees of the First Amendment. . . . But the Federalists in Congress and most of the influential leaders of the party throughout the country—"the wise, rich and good" as they called themselves—had completely lost their heads. Terror of the French Revolution and hatred of democracy had extinguished their common sense. . . . The Federalist majority paid no heed, and the bills became laws.

In the numerous prosecutions in the national courts the judges, all of whom belonged to the Federalist party that had enacted these repressive statutes, acted and spoke in the same manner and words that the English judges had used from the beginning of the French Revolution and were continuing to employ. Their charges to juries were like stump speeches; they denounced France in terms of unbridled and lurid violence; they browbeat witnesses, lectured counsel, assailed prisoners at the bar. If the judges thought the offensive writing had a tendency to incite disaffection, they inferred that such was the intent of the writer; or conversely. . . . The very bitter hatred and profound distrust of the bench caused by the action of national judges in constraining and enforcing the Sedition Act of 1798, all but wrecked our judicial establishment—and that bitterness and distrust lasted for more than half a century. Yet the courts are the one steady influence in our democracy, without which popular government would wreck itself to pieces; and this influence was impaired, wellnigh destroyed, by the judges themselves.

On The Side

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS. That a man who knows how to embroider and knit is never going to be a wizard of finance.

That she can keep her husband from kissing the cook by doing her own cooking.

That the card club prize is going to be something that the hostess won at a previous meeting.

That education is a great thing. Chorus girls ride in limousines while school teachers walk to work.

That a woman's watch is great to tack down a stair carpet with or to throw at a cat.

That it is no fun to smoke a cigarette when nobody is looking.

That the woman who occupied the apartment last had perfectly atrocious taste in wall paper.

That if she stepped to the door and called, "Here, kitty, kitty," all the women in the neighborhood would have to come a-running if they were perfectly honest about it.

Some of the apartment house superintendents are getting rather particular, it seems to us. Our superintendent won't allow any of the tenants to park their Fords in the lobby.

An actress who was collecting alimony from four husbands had a bit of hard luck recently. One of them died and another went into bankruptcy.

ANCIENT OF DAYS.

I can remember when a fit had quite a lot of kick to it and I could take an old thin dime and go and have a lively time. I can remember when two bits would shock a bellhop into fits and when I could produce a half and even make a barber laugh.

I can remember when a plank would purchase for me quite a hunk of porthouse or let me go and have a seat at some good show. I can remember when two bucks would buy for me a brace of ducks and when, if I could show a "v," I was in good society.

And I can even remember when I proudly flashed a new, laid-up and on a modest twenty-five for one whole month, I'd stay alive. And when a bird had fifty beats he had a fortune in his jeans. A hundred bucks was then a price beyond the dreams of avarice.

I've seen the tides of comment flow. I've seen these money come and go. They used to be a busy bunch and even a nickel packed a punch. Yes, I remember when a nickel had quite a lot of kick to it. There's just one answer to be told. I must be getting pretty old.
